PGY3 RESIDENTS

CASEY BONAQUIST, D.O.
Casey grew up in Northwestern Pennsylvania with one younger brother in a household of teachers. She attended the Pennsylvania State University at University Park then completed her D.O. degree at Nova Southeastern University College of Osteopathic Medicine in Fort Lauderdale, FL. During medical school, she learned Medical Spanish, went on a medical mission trip to Ecuador and traveled throughout Asia on a month long excursion. Casey spent an internship year at the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston. Her professional interests include Behavioral Health, Preventive Medicine and Public Health. In her spare time, she enjoys the outdoors, traveling and spending time with family and friends.

JOANNE CASTILLO, M.D.
Joanne was born and raised in the lovely island of Puerto Rico, in the city of Ponce, also known as "La Perla del Sur". She grew up with her two sisters and outstanding parents in a home full of love, compassion and care. From a young age, Joanne began dancing ballet, jazz, and Spanish dance. Later, she focused her study of dance on Salsa style. After graduating from Academia Santa María, she moved to San Juan, Puerto Rico to attend the University of Puerto Rico. Upon graduation in 2006, she went back to her hometown of Ponce and graduated from Ponce School of Medicine. Her professional interests include preventive medicine, alternative medicine and community health. When she is not at work, she enjoys spending time with her family and friends, dancing, reading, and getting involved in community service activities. She loves to read books that help her enhance and nourish her Christian faith. The support of her family has always been most important to her, and she is honored to have the opportunity to take care of other families.

BRIAN CASWELL-MONACK, D.O.
Brian was born and raised in northern Delaware. He attended the University of Delaware where he met his wife, Angela, and graduated with a B.S. in Exercise Physiology. After working for a couple of years as an exercise physiologist in a busy family medicine practice and as an independent personal trainer, Brian decided to apply to medical school along with his wife. In June of 2010, Brian and Angela graduated from Lake Erie College of Osteopathic Medicine in Bradenton, Florida with D.O. degrees. In addition to Family Medicine, Brian’s professional interests include Sports Medicine, Osteopathic Manipulative Medicine, and Medical Acupuncture. His personal interests include cooking, golf, disc golf, fishing, and spending time with friends and family in lower Delaware.
TOMMIE EASLEY, M.D.

Tommie was born and raised in Richmond, Indiana. She considers herself as a lifelong learner by initially beginning her medical career with a bachelor and master’s degree in nursing from Ball State University and Indiana University, Indianapolis, IN, in critical care nursing and as a Family Nurse Practitioner. Spiritually, she knew she was destined for more. Obtaining her medical degree from Ross University enabled her to study with the most diverse group of students from over 30 countries. This gave her an enriched understanding of several cultures. It continued to shape her medical interest in the underserved and rural communities. Tommie’s lifelong goal is to set up a practice, which addresses the whole individual, not only physical health, but mental and spiritual health, a practice that includes free mental counseling once a week after clinic hours. This same philosophy of addressing the entire individual is shared at the Lehigh Valley Family Medicine Residency, which attracted her to the program. Married to Brian, her best friend and running partner through seven mini-marathons and one marathon. She also enjoys reading, southern cooking, medical missions, and biblical counseling through her church.

---

ANN T. HOLMES, D.O.

Ann was born and raised in Fresno, CA located in the San Joaquin Valley. In 2003, she graduated from Santa Clara University with a BA in Biology. After college, she worked as an ER Registrar at St. Agnes Medical Center and was a substitute teacher at an elementary school in Fresno. Ann graduated from Touro University College of Medicine in 2009. Prior to starting residency, Ann married her husband who is also a resident at LVHN in EM. Ann enjoys painting, kayaking, and travel. Her medical interests include pediatrics, mental health, disease prevention, and minor procedures. In addition, Ann enjoys teaching and looks forward to mentoring medical students.

---

RAPHAEL KULAWIK, D.O.

Raphael was born in Newark, NJ and grew up in upstate New York. In 2003, he graduated from University of Florida with a bachelor’s degree in Microbiology & Cell Sciences. After graduation, he worked as a technician at Syracuse University where he performed plant research on Arabidopsis thaliana. The goal of the project was to genetically modify A. thaliana to sense specific chemicals in the environment, whether it be anthrax or TNT and to produce a visible reaction, i.e. wilt. After he married, he entered Lake Erie College of Osteopathic Medicine in Bradenton, FL. In 2010, he proudly joined the Family Medicine residency program at Lehigh Valley Health Network. In his spare time, he enjoys barbequing, brewing beer, road trips, playing tennis, and scuba diving.

---

KIM-HUONG NGUYEN, D.O.

Kim was born and raised in Allentown, PA. After graduating from Louis E. Dieruff High School, Kim attended Muhlenberg College, where she earned a degree in Biology. Her interest in preventative and international medicine carried her through four amazing years at the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. In her spare time, she enjoys the beach, relaxing, and spending time with her family, friends, and dog, Bubbles.
PIYA BHOWMICK, M.D.
Piya grew up in Lehigh Valley, PA and is a Parkland High School graduate. She did her undergraduate work at Temple University in Philadelphia, after which she decided to pursue her medical career at American University of Antigua, on a beautiful island in the Eastern Caribbean. After completing two years of Basic Sciences, she returned to the States for her clerkships in New York City. Her professional interests include women’s healthcare, obstetrics, preventive, and community medicine. In her free time, she enjoys dancing, running, and spending time with family and friends. Piya started dancing soon after she learned how to walk and has been lucky to continue her passion thus far. She has been participating in multicultural activities since childhood to spread awareness to the community. She is excited to start this new journey and looks forward to combining her professional and personal interests to give back to her hometown!

VERONICA KVARTA BROHM, D.O.
Veronica was raised in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, the youngest of four daughters. In 2007, she received her B.S. in Biology from Penn State University. Following university, Veronica pursued her childhood dream of becoming a physician by attending the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. After graduation in the spring of 2011, Veronica and her husband Matthew decided to move back to the Lehigh Valley area. Following residency, Veronica hopes to continue practicing medicine in the region. In her spare time, Veronica likes to spend time with her family, especially with her nieces and nephews, watch movies, and swim.

VANESSA de OLIVEIRA INACIO, M.D.
Vanessa is from the town of Volta Redonda in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. She grew up with one younger sister and my wonderful parents. As a teenager, her family relocated to Wellington Florida, where she attended Wellington High School. She graduated from Florida Atlantic University with a B.S. in Biology and a minor in Spanish, which was very helpful when she decided to move to Ponce, Puerto Rico for medical school. While attending Ponce School of Medicine and Health Sciences she enjoyed working with the underserved and underinsured population. She feels very privileged with the opportunity she had of learning a new culture and meeting very friendly and caring people while attending medical school. It was at medical school where she met her husband who is also a resident at LVHN. Her interests are community health and preventive medicine and in the future, she looks forward to work in underserved communities. In her spare time, she enjoys reading, going to the beach and spending time with her family and friends.
LINDSAY PEREIRA, D.O.
Lindsay grew up in Doylestown, PA and graduated from Central Bucks High School East. In 2006, she graduated from the University of Pittsburgh, where she received her B.S. in Biological Sciences and B.A. in Spanish. Lindsay pursued her medical career at the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine, where she also met her husband, who is currently an Internal Medicine resident at LVHN. Lindsay completed an Osteopathic Internship at Aria Health in Family Medicine after graduating in 2011. When the chance to work within the same hospital system as her husband arose, Lindsay jumped on the opportunity and looks forward to joining the program. Lindsay’s professional interests include women’s preventative medicine and academic medicine. She and her husband hope to practice within the area upon graduation. In her spare time, Lindsay enjoys traveling with her husband, spending time with their families (especially their new puppy), and photography.

HOLLY STONE, M.D.
Holly was born in Texas but, since her father was in the Marine Corps, grew up in Florida, Hawaii and California with her two older brothers. After graduating from high school, she went to work. After seeing her cousin graduate from USC medical school, she decided to take that step. With the support of family and her then-husband, she began by taking night classes at a community college while working full time as a legal secretary for one attorney. Gradually she took on more classes and worked part-time. She then transferred to San Diego State University full-time and graduated with a BS in Biology. She then moved to New Jersey and subsequently got her medical degree from UMDNJ-New Jersey Medical School. Some of her professional interests include reproductive health and geriatrics. She loves listening to all types of music, relaxing, and looks forward to visiting her brothers in California and Maui.

JEFFREY WELLS, D.O.
Jeff was raised in the Lehigh Valley and graduated from Lehigh University with a Bachelor Degree in Chemical Engineering. After spending several years working in the chemical industry Jeff decided that his passion lies more closely in helping people. Jeff completed his medical training at Philadelphia School of Osteopathic Medicine and joined the Lehigh Valley Family Medicine Residency in 2011. Jeff’s professional interests include incorporating Sports Medicine and Dermatologic procedures within the realm of Family Medicine. Jeff enjoys spending time with his wife and three children. In his spare time, he enjoys wakeboarding, the beach, and coaching his daughter’s soccer team.
PGY 1 RESIDENTS

GREGORY CANNON, D.O.
Greg was born, the youngest of two boys, in Athens, Greece and was raised in Centreville, Virginia by way of Turkey, England, Guam, and San Diego, California. As the son of a strong single mother who encouraged him to always hunger for greatness, he excelled academically as well as athletically, playing football for 14 years. A four year starter and team captain at the collegiate level, he graduated Cum Laude from Salisbury University (Eastern Shore Maryland) with a B.S. in Biology in December 2005. He attended medical school at Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine (PCOM) and quickly developed an interest and proficiency in Osteopathic Manipulative Medicine (OMM). Greg was awarded the OMM Undergraduate Teaching Fellowship at PCOM and enjoyed the additional year of medical school spent teaching OMM treatment and principles to his peers and underclassmen and women. His professional interests include furthering his knowledge of Osteopathic Principles and Practices as well as other traditional and nontraditional medical treatments and their unique integration in Family and Sports Medicine. His personal interests include playing, watching, coaching, and otherwise enjoying football, as he prides himself as being a "49ers Fanatic"! He also enjoys music, poetry, travel, and spending much of his free time with his son, Steven Jerry Joseph, named after his three favorite 49ers players. He comes to Lehigh Valley Health Network’s Family Medicine residency with an indescribable excitement and a continued passion for empowerment of himself, his patients and peers in the pursuit of health and happiness.

JENNIFER DALY, D.O.
Jennifer was raised in Richboro, PA, the oldest sibling of three younger brothers and is a graduate of Villa Joseph Marie High School. She attended The Pennsylvania State University where she worked as an EMT on the University Ambulance Service and danced in the Penn State Dance Marathon. She graduated with her B.S. in 2005. After graduation, Jennifer moved to Vail, CO to spend time in the beautiful Rocky Mountains skiing, hiking, and meeting new people. After a year out West, she came back to Philadelphia to complete her M.S. and D.O. at the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. Jennifer’s professional interests are Sports Medicine and Geriatrics. Other interests include spending time with her family and friends and finding outdoor adventures with her husband.

NATALIE MANSOUR, M.D.
Natalie was born in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada where she attended French immersion schools and the International Baccalaureate program. She moved with her family to Boulder, Colorado where she finished high school and completed her undergraduate degree from the University of Colorado at Boulder. Natalie attended medical school in Washington, DC. Throughout medical school and post-graduation, Natalie pursued her passion for research and volunteering. Her professional interests include endocrinology, dermatology, and sports medicine. Natalie also enjoys traveling, playing piano, skiing, skating, hiking, playing tennis, and listening to music.
MARAH MATTHEUS-KAIRYS, M.D.

Marah was born and raised in Philadelphia. When she graduated from Central High School, she went to Rhode Island for college at Brown University. After graduating with a B.A. in cultural anthropology, she discovered a love of medicine and made her way to Drexel University College of Medicine. Her interests include woman’s medicine and integrative medicine. She loves rock climbing, and cooking and eating with friends.

---

REBECCA ROYCE-HICKEY, D.O.

Rebecca grew up in Brodheads ville, Pennsylvania and is a graduate of Pleasant Valley High School. In 2008, she graduated from Virginia Tech with a B.S. in Biology and began her medical career at The Virginia College of Osteopathic Medicine in Blacksburg, Virginia. After graduation, she decided to move back to Pennsylvania with her husband who will also begin his residency at Lehigh Valley Hospital. Her medical interests include women’s health and community medicine. In her free time, she enjoys going to the beach with her family and spending time with her nieces and nephews. She also enjoys staying active and playing with her dog, Marlie. Rebecca is excited to join the Lehigh Valley Health Network and to continue her medical education back in her home state.

---

DAVID VARGAS-MARTINEZ, M.D.

David was born and raised in the island of Puerto Rico in the town of Bayamón, where he grew up with his mother and his two brothers. After graduating from Papa Juan XXIII High School, he went to the University of Puerto Rico in Bayamón where he received his B.S. in Biology. It was half way through college, after his grandfather’s death that David decided he wanted to pursue medicine to be able to take care of those closest to him. So soon after college, he attended the Universidad Central del Caribe School of Medicine in Puerto Rico. During that time, David had the opportunity of working with the underserved and uninsured population which transformed his perspective towards patients and people into a sense of general awareness to the medical needs of others that had not been present before. After finishing medical school, he spent some time doing medical research and then joined the Lehigh Valley Family Medicine Residency in 2012. David’s professional interests include both preventive and international medicine, minor procedures, and integrating healthcare with his Christian faith. In his spare time, David enjoys spending time with his family and friends, watching movies, running, relaxing at the beach, and trying new things to enjoy life.