Tina Casey, D.O.

Dr. Casey is a first-year internal medicine resident at Lehigh Valley Hospital. She received her Bachelor of Science degree from Seton Hall University in South Orange, N.J., and her medical degree from the Lake Erie College of Osteopathic Medicine in Erie, Pa. Dr. Casey has been an active member of her local community; her interests include programs involving breast cancer awareness, mentoring of the young, and community health and prevention education.

She is currently in the process of attaining proficiency in the Spanish language in order to provide better care to a variety of populations. She hopes to spend her time in the ambulatory setting further developing her interest in preventative health. In her spare time, she enjoys running, Boston Red Sox baseball, and spending time with her family and friends.

Nicholas Lamparella, D.O.

Dr. Lamparella is a graduate of Saint Joseph's University, Pa., where he majored in psychology. After college he worked at the National Institutes of Health, researching genetic variations and the relationship to alcohol abuse. He is a graduate of Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. Currently he is an internal medicine resident at Lehigh Valley Hospital. After his residency, Dr. Lamparella plans to pursue a fellowship in hematology/oncology. His

Chris Lupcho, M.D.

Dr. Lupcho is a graduate of Penn State University. He received his undergraduate degree in premed in 2004. While earning his degree, he was an active participant in medical research projects and also earned his EMT license. Dr. Lupcho went on to complete his medical degree through Penn State University at the Milton S. Hershey College of Medicine. Here he continued his passion for research and completed two studies focusing on cardiology. One of these studies was reviewed by a committee and deemed worthy to present to the entire college of medicine at the medical school research symposium, an honor only given to 12 medical students.

In his free time, Dr. Lupcho enjoys many outdoor activities, including running, hiking, golfing and ultimate Frisbee.